

TEACHERS are a VERY important part of ArtonPorcelain.net

Are you a teacher of Porcelain Art? ArtonPorcelain.net is not just a marketplace for the buying and selling of porcelain art works. We are a diverse and passionate community who share and promote our love for aesthetic creations produced on or with porcelain. We believe education is central to this process. AT ArtOnPorcelain.net, you can turn your passion for porcelain creations into profit---You can sign up for a Basic Studio and it's FREE for active teachers!

If you have a passion for helping porcelain artists improve their skills or you love to promote the intricacies of porcelain creations or the history of porcelain development, ArtOnPorcelain.net is definitely the place where you can reach an attentive and sympathetic audience. You can post tutorials in our studio our "How It's Made", or answer customer queries. You can sell educational e-books or videos in your customized on-line shop. Or, you can promote your classes and other educational gatherings in our "Events," section.

In addition, if you also have porcelain products you want to sell, you can use your shop to promote those as well. At ArtonPorcelain.net, we make listing and selling quick and easy by providing you with the knowledge and tools it takes to succeed AND we show you how to use them. We assist you with taking product shots, writing descriptions and linking to other sites. You can increase your exposure and have your own studio for less than the price of a web designer or web hosting fees. By letting us take care of that aspect of your work, you will have time to create and teach more while spending less.

When you're ready to grow your business even more, you can upgrade to an ADVANCED or PRO STUDIO at any time.

At ArtOnPorcelain.net, you can feel confident knowing that the online buying experience is a pleasant, safe and rewarding one for your customers and students. Register with us NOW, and create your Basic Studio FREE of charge.
